Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hermon of Barton in the death of their son, Leo. The cause of death was diphtheria. Mrs. Hermon was Miss Annie Wilder, formerly of this place.

Word has been received here that Nelson Hardy died recently at his home near Brattleboro. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Hardy, adopted son, Will, and niece, Miss Lolita, who were brought up by Mr. and Mrs. Hardy and seemed as their own children. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy lived here several years and endeared themselves to many. They were splendid singers and Mrs. Hardy was a musician and they were great church workers. From here they went to Lyndon and last fall bought a farm near Brattleboro and moved onto it.

FEBRUARY FOURTEEN

Oh, were ye all, my maidens fair,
And were ye, gentlemen,
For there is danger in the air
Now Cupid's come again.
Encase your hearts in adamant,
And guard them round about,
For Cupid is a sly gallant
And like to draw them out.

Oh, guard ye well, my maidens all,
And ye, my gentlemen;
Where Cupid's darts are like to fall
Is always uncertain.
Gird on your armor, strong and true,
And steel your hearts, and wait,
And be convinced he shoots at you
Ere you capitulate.

BASKET BALL

The basketball game Friday night at the gymnasium at North Craftsbury, between Hardwick and Craftsbury academics, drew a large crowd that filled the hall to capacity, being estimated at 225.

Hardwick brought up a good supply of her loyal fans to support their team. This was the return game for Hardwick and was anticipated by all to be one of the closest, fastest and best games of the season, and both sides were not disappointed in the least.

The game started off with a rush, with C. A. scoring six points before H. A. had a try. For the rest of the period C. A. had had luck shooting, while H. A. was steadily advancing. The score at the end of the first period was H. A. 17; C. A. 11. Moodie starred for C. A. during this first period making all of the C. A. points. Kelley played a good game for C. A. and succeeded in holding Geddis, the fast H. A. forward, down to a very small number of baskets.

The game during the second period was watched amid constant cheering from both sides. Hardwick at times showed their skill by the swift, clean passing that they did. Craftsbury did some very clever passing also. Kelley and Moodie kept up the good work that they began in the first period with Lawrence helping them out. Clifford also played a good guard game. At the finish of the game the score stood H. A. 30; C. A. 27. Everyone said it was the best game they had seen for many a day.
